

Court hearing today in teacher dispute

BULLETIN

At the insistence of Circuit Judge Joseph Barr, representatives of the Granite City Board of Education and of the teachers' union sat down this morning in a jury deliberation room in the Madison County Courthouse at Edwardsville to make a last attempt to resolve their differences before the matter goes to court.

Judge Barr, who accepted the case when a change of venue from Associate Judge P. J. O'Neill was granted, asked the two sides to negotiate further before he would rule on a motion filed by the union. The union is asking the court to dismiss the school district's request for an injunction ordering teachers to report for duty at the schools.

Many teachers crowded the hallways of the courthouse this morning in what one witness described as "a mob scene."

teachers from withholding their services.

Associate Judge P. J. O'Neill was to preside at the hearing.

Attorney Harold Baker was to represent the school system and Attorney Raymond Freark was to appear on behalf of Granite City Local 743, American Federation of Teachers. The injunction request was filed Thursday and the hearing initially was set for Friday. It was postponed until today when Freark said he needed more time to study the suit.

Frederary arguments today were expected to deal with whether Local 743 is taking any actions that could be enjoined by the court.

There has been no picketing, and the Federation has avoided calling for a strike, instead leaving it up to individual teachers whether or not to report for work.

The previous agreement, never formally signed by the local, expired this summer.

The fall school term was scheduled to start with workshops for teachers Aug. 24 and a half-day of classes for students Aug. 25. When only about 25 teachers appeared for the workshops, classes were delayed until Thursday.

On Thursday morning, 29 of the 590 faculty members were present, along with 2,500 of the 10,000 pupils. School officials then sent the students home and ruled there will be no classes "until further notice."

Superintendent of Schools B. J. Davis said, "Upon resolution of contractual differences, schools will be reopened, with the public having at least 24 hours' notice."

In life with the 24-hour notice plan, there could be no classes prior to Wednesday even if a settlement occurred immediately.

Opinions differ on how long the work stoppage may last.

Pressure on the school system includes the limited number of "snow days" and holidays that could be utilized to make up for missed days of school, the prospect of state financial aid losses, and the problem of retaining accreditation (recognition by universities of graduates' credentials) if classes are taught for an insufficient number of days in 1981-82.

There is less apparent pressure on the faculty, since Madison County courts historically have hesitated to order teachers to report for work as public employees. Their pay and certain benefits could be delayed, however.

In the most recent actual teacher strike the Granite City district, in 1969, an injunction was sought but Bond County Judge Foss Meyer instead urged the two parties to resume negotiations. They did, and reached agreement without any court decision. There was no strike two years ago, but the school district postponed the start of classes for several days as salary talks proceeded.

No negotiations have taken place this year since Aug. 26. Talks on economic issues also had been held on Aug. 18, 19, 20, 21, 22, 23, 24 and 25, after previous negotiations on non-economic issues.

Some teachers are believed to have been concerned about the new talks because, after they reached a settlement and ratified it in the fall of 1979, inflation surged.

The annual inflation rate remained under 10 percent for the four straight

Drugs among loot seized in MEGSI raid on GC apartment

When undercover officers of the Metropolitan Enforcement Group of Southwestern Illinois obtained warrants to search the apartment of James "Buddy" Chubb, 63, of 3223 Maryville Road, Apt. 2, Thursday afternoon, they decided to take Granite City police detectives along with them and the detectives said they were glad the MEGSI officers did.

Among the items removed from the apartment by police, besides drugs, were three television sets, eight stereos, five turntables, 18 speakers, a guitar, four tape decks, a 410 gauge shotgun, three telephones (including a Mickey Mouse phone), old coins and a serial stamp collection.

Also, jewelry (including expensive diamond rings), silver candleholders, a silver tableware setting, an adding machine, an electric shaver, binoculars, headphones, two cases of tape recordings, a police scanner, cameras, a movie projector, several boxes of tools and numerous other items.

"We are going to hold these items until we determine who the owners are," Detective Tony Eck told the Press-Record. The items nearly fill the small evidence room in the detective division.

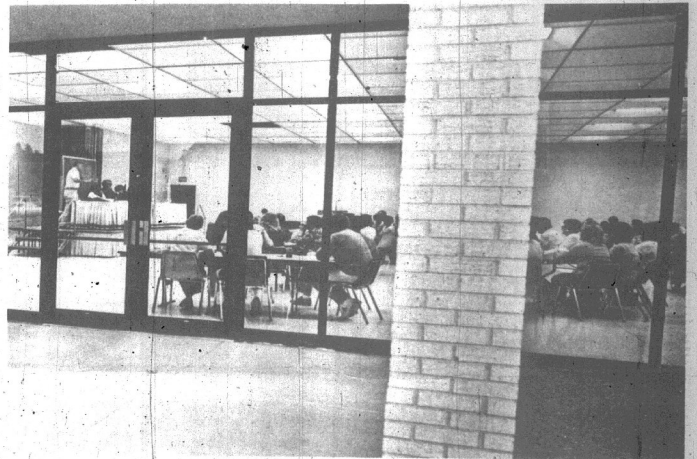

Eck and Detective Craig Nomm expressed disappointment that few if any of the items of value had been engraved with the driver license numbers of the owners under the city's Operation Identification program.

Captain of the Patrol Division Harry Mitchell held up a pair of heavy silver candleholders and commented, "What a shame. With something this valuable, you would think the owners would protect them by having them engraved."

Officers said it will take approximately a week to inventory and classify all of the items removed from the apartment. He urged persons who suspect some of the items may be theirs to wait for an announcement to come to the police station and attempt to claim stolen merchandise.

Law enforcement panel studies revenue options

Ways to maintain its programs despite growing financial uncertainties are being reviewed by the Southwestern Illinois Law Enforcement Commission.

A budget for general operating and administrative costs for January through December 1982 was set at $56,000 during a late-August meeting held in the Four Flags Inn at Red Bud. Items budgeted were personnel at $42,850, contractual and auditing costs $8,700, travel $2,400, commodities $850, other costs $3,200 and "911" emergency telephone service, $4,000.

Commission board members include Madison City Clerk John N. Belcoff, Madison County Sheriff Ed J. Toffant, and Granite City Police Chief Ronald J. Veizer.

John O. Ellis, SILEC executive director, said the second part of a mobile team training application has been approved, perhaps enabling the training to continue through 1982.

Commission President Frank H. Thompson noted that the executive committee met in early August to develop budget recommendations.

Apart from the mobile team budget, the executive committee considered scheduling a work week of five, four or three days for the executive director and administrative assistant.

It was concluded that, other than the mobile team, SILEC can operate effectively on a four-day week. That approach was included in the new budget.

Ellis related there is a possibility that additional funds will be received to help meet administrative expenses.

However, he added, in order to maintain the mobile team operation and the reduced budget for administration, it will be necessary to request larger contributions from the seven member counties than were received last year.

The contributions provide general operational revenue and also matching funds for grants.

Proposed meeting schedules for the board and executive committees were discussed in detail, with a decision on the schedules deferred until November.

Ellis said that not only SILEC is concerned about the financial outlook; the Illinois Law Enforcement Commission is facing similar problems, he said, adding:

"We are looking for a comprehensive form from ILEC regarding initial procedures for the phase-down, and close-out of grants."

Water level at Horseshoe topic of ongoing debate

By GARY SCHEINER of the Press-Record

Bill Nichols, owner of much of the private property around Horseshoe Lake, said at a public meeting Friday afternoon that he may file suit against Nichols Township Highway Commissioner Frank Mehelic for what he alleges is illegally altering the depth of Horseshoe Lake and endangering fish life in the lake.

Mehelic, who calls Nichols "a big crybaby," said he is only doing his job in protecting Nameeki Township from flooding and has the blessing of the Metro-East Sanitary District in keeping the lake level low enough to accept the water from the township in times of heavy rains.

Nichols alleged at the Crime Prevention Committee of the Township Area Chamber of Commerce Friday afternoon that Mehelic has the wheel which opens and closes the gate used to control the water level and that Mehelic "refuses to give it back to the sanitary district."

Mehelic told the Press-Record it's not really a wheel, but more of a crank. "Sure I have it. I'm looking at it talking to you," he said on the telephone. He said Walter "Shang" Greathouse, president of the sanitary district, gave it to him during a heavy rain and has no objection to the township keeping it. "It makes more sense to have it there where we can keep Nameeki Township from flooding than to keep it in East St. Louis or somewhere," Mehelic said.

Greathouse said Mehelic has the wheel, which weighs about 40 pounds and takes "40 miles to turn," but it doesn't matter, since someone Thursday hockswayed through the shaft the wheel goes on and the wheel can't be used anymore. The gates are closed and likely to remain that way until repairs can be made, he said.

Greathouse stated, "I think what we will do is to just put two big eyelets on the big gate and a cable and we can use a big truck with a winch or a crane to raise or lower it. Something that everyone does not have in his back yard. That should solve the question of who opens and closes it."

Tessie Houston celebrates 100th birthday at party

By DONNA KIMBRO of the Press-Record

A vivacious and very alert Tessie Houston, a resident of the Colonial Haven Nursing Home who has lived during almost half of our nation's history, celebrated her 100th birthday Thursday afternoon at the nursing home with family and friends.

Her unusually long life has spanned the administrations of half the presidents of this nation and five of the major wars it has encountered beginning with the Spanish-American War during the 1890s.

The centenarian was born six months before Franklin D. Roosevelt on Aug. 27, 1881, in Shawneetown, Ill., and at that time Chester A. Arthur, our 21st president, had just begun his term in office.

She married Walter S. Houston in 1920 and moved to East St. Louis where they settled to rear a family of four daughters and one son. Mr. Houston died in 1955 and she continued to reside there until 1977 when she came to the nursing home at the age of 96.

While living in East St. Louis, Mr. and Mrs. Houston were members of the Ladies Aid Society and the Methodist Church. Mrs. Houston was active in church affairs including the Ladies Aid Society and quilting circle.

"She also worked at Famous-Barr Store in St. Louis on a part time basis during all holiday seasons. Her husband was an employee of Ralston Purina Co. and Famous Barr Co. until he retired.

Attending the party with other residents of the facility were her four daughters, Mrs. Richard (Elizabeth) Fiechig of Ballwin, Mo., Mrs. Joe (Alice) K. Houston of Edwardsville, Mrs. Lyle (Pauline) Hobbs and Mrs. George (Gene) Nelson, both of Granite City; and a son-in-law Lyle Hobbs. Her son, Glenn Houston of St. Louis, was unable to be present.

Mrs. Houston also has 11 grandchildren and 17 great-grandchildren. Although Mrs. Houston is a walker to assist her, she was so impatient to attend the festivities she lifted it up and walked the length of the hallway in high spirits.

The energetic little woman sat at the main table opening many congratulatory cards and kept a few unused cards to read later, exclaiming "I'll have plenty of time to look at them tomorrow."

Eastlands announces light commercial development

John Sobol, president of Eastlands, Inc., of Granite City, announced Friday that his firm is constructing a new light-commercial development on nine lots on Route 157 at Center Grove Road in Edwardsville which will be known as the Center Grove Professional Park. The single-plat development will include nine single or duplex one-story brick buildings of up to 2,600 square feet, plus basements, which are ready for finishing. A lot and building may be split for double ownership, Sobol said.

No two buildings will be exactly alike and building design and layout work has been done by Builders Design Inc., of Edwardsville. The architectural theme is Colonial and French and all the buildings will use orange wood hand-made brick and thick cedar shake shingled roofs exclusively. Trees around and inside lots are heavily wooded, Sobol said.

Standard features will include insulated wood windows and energy-efficient heat pumps and air conditioning.

The development will be complimented by two long brick fences, a divided entrance, three center islands with two five-globe antique lamps, cobblestone paving and a large brick gazebo shelter. Parking for ninety cars will be provided.

Sobol said most professions and services, including light retail sales may be included in the park, but no food or drink establishments will be accepted.

Starting prices are $59,900 for a half building and lot. Lots may be purchased for future use. Financing and lease-option plans are available. Investors will be welcome.

A preview showing of the first completed building may be arranged by calling Sobol at 451-7431 or 1-656-9000.

Since the September meeting will be mainly for electing officers and collecting annual dues, it was decided to have a white elephant sale and pot-luck supper at the October meeting.

Burel Schmisser talked about using the rhythm section of the organ as a teaching help to improve timing and improve the sound of playing.

Tickets must be postmarked no later than tomorrow, Sept. 1, to qualify for a refund.

The address for the ticket office is Box 191, DuQuoin, Ill. 62832.

The fair opened with the national cow chip throwing contest and a concert by the Charlie Daniels Band Friday, the Don Williams and Tammy Wynette show on Saturday and the United States Auto Club (USAC) dirt race, a garden tractor pull and the Staller Brothers and Brenda Lee concert yesterday.

Head Madison Lions club candy day

Donald Bridick, Madison chief of police, and Anthony Anselmo, operator of Tony & Joe's Lounge in Madison, have been named chairman of the annual Candy Day Sale sponsored by the Madison Lions Club. The candy day program is conducted in connection with statewide efforts by the Lions Clubs to aid the handicapped.

As chairmen, they will coordinate efforts of the Madison Lions Club to raise money Oct. 9 by giving away candy and accepting donations to help meet a statewide Lions' goal of $1.2 million to help the blind, visually handicapped, deaf, and hearing impaired.

The announcement of the Candy Day chairmen was made by Paul Ashford, club president.

Funds contributed by the public statewide will be used both for local and statewide humanitarian services for those with vision or hearing impairments.

Statewide, funds support projects administered by the Lions of Illinois Foundation, on behalf of the state's 38,000 Lions in 678 clubs. The foundation, 1515 N. Harlem Ave., Oak Park, is the charitable arm of the Lions Clubs.

Among programs administered by the Foundation are a Mobile Glaucoma Screening Unit, Mobile Hearing Services Unit, Eye Donor Registry, collection and redistribution of used eyeglasses and hearing aids, Camp Lions for children with vision or hearing impairments, and a program of social services and referral to offer direct and indirect services for the blind and deaf as individuals.

Candy Day funds also are awarded in grants to Lion-awarded agencies. In the past, recipients have included Hadley School for the Blind, Leader Dogs for the Blind, Dialogue With The Blind (a recorded, Brailled, and large print magazine), low vision programs at the Illinois College of Optometry, and eye research at the University of Illinois medical school.

"We look forward to the Candy Day challenge and hope that we can count on everyone in the community to support this effort to help the blind and deaf," the chairman said.

Other Candy Day committee chairmen appointed were William Gushleiff, 1671 Fourth St., manpower, A. Young, 520 Madison Ave., publicity, Darmond Broyles, 1415 Fifth St., underwriting, and Richard Bright, 845 Alton Ave., materials and equipment.

month, teaching an 8.6 percent annual rate in June. The school exceeded a 15 percent yearly rate in July.

Local 743 said Tuesday afternoon that the school board has indicated that it can only pay teachers a 7.5 percent raise in 1981. The teachers cannot live with that. The projected cost-of-living increase for 1981 is already 9.5 percent.

A Federation representative said Wednesday that teachers have asked for a 12.4 percent raise.

A school official said such figures as 12.4 and 7.9 apparently do not include the estimated 17 percent cost of increment pay raises on the schedule (added years of service), nor the raises granted as teachers obtain advanced degrees or additional college credits.

Officers of Local 743 said jointly on June 11 that they had not yet presented negotiation proposals to the district.

They added, "Teachers are reasonable people. We haven't seen a board offer yet, but we can assure you that if the board makes us an attractive enough offer, alleged 'strike sentiment' will not be insurmountable."

If the start of school is delayed, where fault will it be? The union which has made no inflammatory comments on negotiations; the board which starts talking about a strike before it sees one; the newspaper which prints distortions and innuendoes? The Press-Record said in a July 4 article, "Fall school strike seems," relayed beliefs of school members at a public meeting, not those of the newspaper.

Individual teachers are said to have indicated during the week-end they disagree with the school district's statement describing salary issues in terms of "the average teacher" in the district.

The district said Wednesday night that teacher pay based on a faculty of 500 averages $21,900 and that the schools have offered to raise this to $24,900 now and $26,300 a year from now.

The 1980-81 working agreement between School District Nine and the Granite City Federation of Teachers, consisting of 32 pages and 42 articles of agreement, lists base pay of $11,770 and pension payments of $233 for a teacher in the first year of employment and with a bachelor degree.

The salary schedule progresses to base pay of $22,693 and $1,588 pension payments for a teacher in the 10th year of employment and with a master degree including 190 credit hours.

Another party was held at the Nameki Recreation Center for members of the family the previous week.

teachers for the 1981-82 school year are in the 14th year or more of service in the district. It has been estimated that this might increase to 70 percent in 1982-83.

The 14th-year salary schedule for 1980-81 consisted of base pay of $21,903 and pension of $1,511 for faculty members with a bachelor degree; $21,868 and $1,500 for bachelor degree with 150 or more credit hours; $22,143 and $1,550 for bachelor with 175; $22,418 and $1,569 for a master degree; and the $22,693 and $1,588 for a teacher with a master degree including 190 credit hours.

School officials said Wednesday night the formal proposal they have made for 1981-82 is an increase of $1,245,500 for the 590, or an average raise of $2,107. They said their offer for 1982-83 provides a further raise totaling $1,370,075, or $2,322 per teacher, for a two-year advance of $4,429 for the average teacher.

Spokesmen for Local 743 include Shirley Stoll, president, and Freeker. Joining them at the bargaining table have been Ben Schultzenhofer, first vice-president, Larry Dale, treasurer, Loretta Woolbright, recording secretary, Russell Chappell, chairman of the local's salary and policy committee, and Larry Tolbert, a member of the salary and policy committee.

Negotiators for the school district include Harold Hillmer, employee relations administrator, and Baker. Participating in the negotiations along with them have been George Moore and Monroe Worthen, members of the Board of Education's Assistant Supt. Frank Kraus, Personnel Administrator Terry Salem, Curriculum Coordinator Warren Collins and Mike Sikora, principal of Coolidge Junior High School.

Water level

Steel temporarily stopped putting water into the lake last week. The steel company normally adds 21 million gallons of water a day to the lake from its waste treatment plant — water that the company pumps from the Mississippi River.

Without that water and with the gates and culverts open, the level of the lake dropped drastically, about 18 inches two weeks ago. By Aug. 14, Greathouse said, the culverts had been resealed closed. Melchior had closed the low water gate and a heavy rain had brought the lake back to a nearly acceptable level and Granite City Steel has agreed to put 25 million gallons of water a day into the lake. "I think it's rising," he said.

Nichols commented, "It's a good thing. If we had had hot weather and had not had that rain, we would have had a massive fish kill."

Melchior contends the lake is deep enough around the Quality Sand pits that the fish would have gone there and would not have died, even if there had been hot weather. "Nichols could have been out there scooping them out with a net and selling them," Melchior contended.

Nichols disagreed, saying that to put all of the fish in the lake into the small area excavated by Quality Sand would kill most of them, since there would be inadequate food or oxygen in the water.

Nichols said Friday, Melchior showed charts he has kept for years and contends that the lake is 18 inches below where it should be and that boaters now cannot use the lake because their boat motors keep hitting bottom.

The low water problem is going to become more evident in the next month, Nichols said, as duck hunting season approaches, since the duck hunters cannot get onto the lake to build their blinds, which normally are built before October.

Greathouse says one duck hunter has been bothering him about the low level of the lake. "I told the man I could care less about the duck blind and even less about the fish. I'm concerned about flooding in meeki Township, including Arlington Heights, Pontoon Beach and part of Miracle Manor. I'm not in the Conservation Department," he added.

"I just wish all these guys would get together, have a meeting and decide what level the lake should be and we'll leave it there. I talked to Jim Helbreck (assistant to the director of the Illinois Department of Conservation) and told him to tell the level they want," Greathouse told the Press-Record.

"I think what we've got here is I am caught in a fight between two guys who have been fighting for 25 years or so and I'm trying to pacify everyone. I'm the most confused guy in the world," Greathouse said, adding that Thursday night he asked David Bergfield, a sanitary district board member, to step in and see if he could help with the problems related to the lake level.

"I asked Dave to step in and handle it from now on and keep these people off my back. I've got enough to do keeping this district operating," Greathouse concluded.

$1 million liability insurance required for amusement rides

A bill requiring operators of amusement rides and attractions to have at least $1 million in liability insurance has been signed into law by Governor James R. Thompson.

"The need for legislation like the one I signed stems from potentially serious accidents from unsafe amusement rides," Thompson said. "By maintaining liability insurance of $1 million, amusement ride operators are given a strong financial incentive to maintain safe conditions."

Consumer Product Safety Commission statistics estimate that in the last year there were nearly 600 injuries and 10 deaths nationally from unsafe rides, Thompson said.

The bill, the Amusement Ride and Attractions Safety Insurance Act, calls for the Department of Insurance to judge the acceptability of an operator's insurer.

The measure also exempts certain types of amusement ride operators from carrying the liability insurance, such as nonmechanized playground equipment, an amusement ride or attraction owned and operated by a non-profit religious, educational or charitable institution, and an attraction located in a building inspected by the State Fire Marshal.

application periods. "Even taking into consideration the FAA's plans to keep up the number of classes being trained at their academy, the group of applicants already certified eligible on our register will provide a more than ample pool of students for the academy until the new test is given in October and November," Devine said.

An open application period for the ATC job began on Aug. 17. After two days of the open application period, persons have submitted applications for the position.

The applicants will be given a written examination, controller examination, under development for six years, in a joint project of OPM and the Federal Aviation Administration. The present exam has been used for nearly 20 years, having gone into use in May 1962.

Devine said, "The new examination will allow a more accurate selection of ATC candidates capable of successfully completing the FAA training program for air traffic controllers. Studies of the new test indicate that it will reduce the number of 'wash-outs' at the FAA Academy in Oklahoma City by around ten percent."

"The average failure rate under the old exam averaged 30 percent in our class, reaching 36 percent in another."

"The old exam became less predictive as the controller's job and state-of-the-art technology changed."

ATC candidates selected for training at the FAA Academy will be drawn from the controller register, which contains the names of 5,500 individuals who have taken and passed the ATC exam during previous open

A MAJOR BUST. Granite City police detectives inventory some of the items taken from a Maryville Road apartment when a search warrant was served Thursday afternoon. A pickup truck full of stereos, speakers, turntables, jewelry and other items were seized at the apartment and police are attempting to determine the ownership of the items. The resident of the apartment and a woman were booked on drug charges in relation to allegedly illegal drugs found in the apartment. Detectives, from the left are Bob Astorian, chief of detectives; Craig Nonn and Tony Eck.

Drugs seized

The court order to search the apartment was served by detectives and MEGSI agents at 4:13 p.m. Thursday and police used a pickup truck to haul the items to the police station.

MEGSI agents seized 16 bottles and bags of pills, medicines in the apartment and a woman found in the apartment were jailed. Subsequently, Chubb was charged with five counts of possessing controlled substances and Linda L. Allison, 28, of the same apartment building, was charged with three counts of delivering controlled substances to undercover MEGSI agents.

His bond is set at $50,000 and hers is $35,000.

They were transferred Saturday morning to the Madison County Jail.

Jim Nichols, MEGSI executive director, alleged that an informant told them that Chubb was "the top cop" in an operation which exchanged drugs for stolen items.

He contended there is "a stable of Kirkpatrick Homes girls" who go to doctors and weight loss clinics and obtain drugs weekly or twice a week for the operation.

All drugs seized at Chubb's apartment were Class Three felony drugs, Nichols contended. Also found were books of food stamps and public welfare checks.

"I would guess the taxpayer was paying for all these drugs to keep the operation going," Nichols commented.

He said that Granite City police had been watching Chubb's activities for some time, and noted that fencing operations are easy to identify "but hard to prove" without undercover work, such as is supplied by MEGSI.

County workers ok pact

Just 41 days before a meeting to begin contract negotiations for 1982, Madison County workers in Local 709 of the American Federation of State County and Municipal Employees have voted unanimously to accept a contract for fiscal 1981.

The employees have been working without a contract since last Dec. 1, although they received a wage increase in March.

The pact voted by the union members, still has to have county board approval. The board meets Sept. 15.

The employees reportedly received a 30 cent per hour raise, and cost of living increases tied to the Consumer Price Index.

A union spokesperson said the first contract negotiations for next year's contract are scheduled for Oct. 5.

Contract talks between the county's negotiating committee and the union were halted last December by an injunction filed by the teamsters, who had launched an attempt to become bargaining agent for more than 400 county employees then bargained for by AFSCME.

"The dispute raged for several months; along the way, the two unions agreed to divvy the employees, but the county declined to negotiate with two unions."

Finally, in June, a county-sponsored election was held and AFSCME won by a 2-1 margin.

The 1981 contract, when formally approved, will be retroactive to last Dec. 1, the first day of the county's fiscal year.

City reductions will not stop budget deficits from growing

Even with a reduction in Granite City's monthly payroll from $4,307 to $3,900, made possible by reduced layoffs of city personnel, the city still will be $400,951 in debt at the end of this fiscal year, April 30, 1982, according to a worksheet released last week by David Nolan, administrative aide to Mayor Paul Schuler.

Nolan's figures call for repayment of $900,000 in outstanding tax anticipation warrants and $300,000 in bank notes between October, 1981 and February, 1982, but predict that the city will climb deeper into debt each month between January and April of 1982, unless additional forms of income are found.

The city council last week rejected the idea of imposing a utility tax on electricity, voting 9 to 5 in favor of a motion barring any type of utility tax this fiscal year.

In addition to the projected $400,951 deficit on April 30, 1982, the city will have to borrow to keep operating until new taxes are collected in the late summer of 1982.

Mayor Paul Schuler has warned. With the city's expenses totaling close of a half-million dollars a month and income from sources other than property tax totaling only about $400,000 a month, borrowing enough to meet the city's expenses in May, June, July, August and possibly even September of 1982 could leave the city another half-million dollars in debt by the time taxes collected in the summer of 1982 are received.

According to Nolan's projections, the city will have a surplus of $90,844 at the end of October, if about $350,000 of the property tax levy has been received.

Another $1,050,000 should be received in the following four months from property taxes, he projects.

The surplus at the end of October will mark the final time in the fiscal year that the city will have its head "above water," according to Nolan's projections.

With repayments of funds borrowed in June and July of this year to keep the city operating until new taxes are received, the city's cash flow outlook is expected to get steadily gloomier in the coming months.

Nolan projects deficits of $135,423 at the end of November, $243,254 at the end of December, $164,647 at the end of January, $390,565 at the end of February, $483,308 at the end of March and $404,951 at the end of the fiscal year.

Overall, the city's expenditures are not far out of line with the city's income, the report shows. This fiscal year began May 1, 1981, with a deficit of $388,000 and will end with a deficit of $404,951.

Revenues during the year are expected to total $7,676,996 while expenditures during the year, including repayments of the borrowed $1.2 million, are expected to total $7,682,172, Nolan predicts.

The main problem is that new taxes will not be received at the end of the fiscal year and there will be approximately five months between the end of the fiscal year and the receipt of new taxes. That will necessitate new borrowing or the imposition of some kind of a new tax, aldermen have been warned.

Pedestrian hit by Delivery van

A pedestrian, Rodney Caselton, 33, of 2345 Buxton Ave., was admitted to St. Elizabeth Medical Center after being struck by a newspaper delivery van at 3 a.m. Sunday in the street in front of 2915 Myrtle Ave.

Caselton appeared to have escaped serious injury but had tire marks on the right arm and hip area.

Ray A. Young, 17, of 2351 Morrison said he was driving south while delivering papers when he felt a bump. Stopping the van he found Caselton lying on the pavement. An ambulance was summoned.

Theft alleged

Glen E. Whitner, 19, of 1218 College St., Venice, was charged with theft and police are searching for another man in connection with the attempted theft of scrap metal from Granite City Steel's south plant at 2:35 p.m. Sunday.

A security guard for Consolidated Aluminum Corp. (Conalco) alerted officers that two men were picking up scrap iron from an old crane in the yard. The men ran and ignored a demand from a security guard to stop.

As they ran, they threw away pieces of scrap iron, it was alleged. A Granite City Steel security vehicle went to Route 3 west of the yard and stopped Whitner as he ran from the area toward Venice, according to official reports.

The other man escaped. An eyewitness to the attempted theft alleged that Whitner was one of the men involved and he was jailed.

The groups of volunteers, which totaled more than 50 for the three days, all started at Ervay's Restaurant on Pontoon Road, photo at left, where they were given packets of information to give to the businesses about the Tri-Cities Area Chamber of Commerce. Approximately 500 businesses were contacted during the three-day 'blitz.'

Pleads innocent to charge of escape

Pleading innocent Thursday afternoon to charges of escape, disorderly conduct and resisting arrest, Janice Hughes, 21, of 2717 Roosevelt Ave. was freed on bonds totaling $5,000.

Also pleading innocent and released on bond Thursday was her father, Albert F. Hughes, 51, of the Roosevelt address. He was charged with disorderly conduct and resisting arrest at 1:10 a.m. that day at the Tip Top Tavern, 18th and State streets.

Officers alleged they placed her in a patrol car while in the process of putting Hughes in another police car, and that she was missing when they returned to the first vehicle. An unknown person is said to have unlocked a rear door of the patrol car. She is reported to the police station at 12:50 p.m. Thursday.

"In responding to this, we provided an outline of the board's thinking as far as training is concerned, and reported that we were discussing alternative ways of continuing the general operation.

"We said there are no plans to close down in the foreseeable future. We are requesting that 1980 MBG grants be extended through Sept. 30, 1982, the maximum time to extend such funds.

"We probably will receive some additional funds from the Illinois commission, and these will be used judiciously.

"Verbal commitments have been made by the Illinois Department of Law Enforcement to conduct jointly with our mobile team a substantial number of training programs next year.

"Our 1982 training schedule, which has been completed, is going to bring more certified training into our region. We hope this will reduce the cost of sending people away for training.

Pres. Thompson said he appreciates the seriousness he senses among board members. He commented:

"Whether or not we get federal funds, we are still facing crime. We have developed a robust organization, and our staff is a premiere staff.

"Maybe now we can begin to talk more about local and regional needs. When we come up with proposals, there is no reason why we cannot approach the government with fresh ideas and then come to our board with recommendations. I would like some hard work along those lines.

"The sun won't stop rising—and crime won't stop—when federal funds stop. I salute everyone for continued support of SILEC and for the work they are going to do."

Ellis said a liaison individual will aid St. Clair County juvenile courts by working with state and other agencies, dealing with minors who become the courts' responsibility.

The SILEC staff was authorized to award state juvenile liaison revenue allocations between now and their expiration Sept. 30, if further acceptable applications are received. An application from Madison County is anticipated.

Next meeting of the SILEC board of directors will be Sept. 16 at Eberhard's Restaurant, Columbia.

New law to require school attack reports

Governor James R. Thompson has amendatorily vetoed two bills, including Senate Bill 612, which requires school boards, through their superintendents, to report attacks on teachers and other school personnel to local law enforcement authorities within 24 hours and to the State Board of Education within three days.

He amended the bill, making the Illinois Department of Law Enforcement responsible for keeping records of attacks on teachers, rather than the State Board of Education. Senate Bill 612 calls for the Department of Public Health to create rules requiring the testing of newborns for hypothyroidism.

The bill also instructs the department to establish an educational program for medical personnel in hypothyroidism and galactosemia. The governor amendatorily vetoed a portion of the bill that specified the type of tests for new births, saying that it would result in an unnecessary expense.

Firemen called to apartment twice

Granite City firemen were called to the apartment of Barbara Stevenson, 2120 Adams St., upstairs, twice early Sunday as hot grease was believed responsible for two separate fires.

The first call was at 1:55 a.m. when grease on the stove overheated. The occupant had extinguished the fire by the time firemen arrived and there was little damage.

At 4 a.m. Sunday, firemen were recalled for a fire on the back porch of the upstairs apartment. Firemen believe that the hot skillet of grease from the previous fire was placed in a trash container and the trash smoldered until fire broke out.

The damage was restricted to the upstairs back porch on fire and the loss was estimated at only $5.

BOOKED ON WARRANT
Pamela Wanick, 18, of 2540 Parkview was booked by Granite City police at 5 p.m. Thursday on a disorderly conduct warrant and was released to Madison County deputies three hours later on a county warrant.

Enrollment is up at SIUE

Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville is experiencing a 4.5 percent increase in student enrollment this summer over the figures recorded for the same period last year, according to Eugene Magac, director of the Office of Admissions and Records.

This is the fourth consecutive quarter that the university has shown an increase in student enrollment over that of the previous year's comparable quarter.

Total student headcount for the summer quarter is 5,990 or 261 more than attended classes last summer. During the summer of 1980, a total of 5,729 students attended the university, compared with 5,805 in the summer of 1979.

SIUE is experiencing increases in both full-time and part-time students, Magac said. There were 1,981 full-time students attending classes this summer, 1,745 students in the summer of 1980, and 1,780 during the summer of 1979.

This summer, there are 4,099 part-time students, compared with 3,984 in 1980 and 4,025 in 1979.

The number of freshman students is also up, Magac said, 450 compared with 369 in 1980 and 389 in 1979. There also has been an increase in the number of new students transferring from other schools. This summer, there are 158 new transfer students at the university, compared with 146 in 1980 and 148 in 1979. The number of new graduate students also showed an increase, 172 new graduate students attending classes this summer, compared with 163 new students last year.

Increases in total student enrollment are occurring in the freshman and sophomore classes, with the freshman class showing a rise of 76 students over that of last year. There is an increase of 90 among the sophomores.

In the number of unclassified undergraduates, this year's enrollment totals 363, up 110 over last year. Unclassified students may be taking academic courses for any number of reasons, he said. They may already have degrees and are updating their professional knowledge. They may be attending other colleges during the year and are taking courses while they are home for summer. Or they simply may be taking courses for their own enrichment.

Enrollment figures also show an increase in the number of males attending the university. This summer, there are 2,745 male and 3,245 female students at the University, compared to 2,496 male and 2,933 female students last year.

Students, sponsors are being sought for Operation Snowball

Interested students and sponsors are being sought so approximately 70 teenagers and 16 adult supervisors can attend the October 9 to 11 Operation Snowball event in Makanda, Ill., about eight miles from Carbondale.

The event is founded on the belief that every human being has the capacity to make sound decisions regarding his life, based on accurate information and an understanding of his self and motivations, according to an AID spokesman.

The purpose of the event is to bring together local teenagers and professional resources to share information, correct misinformation and to examine feelings about alcohol and drug abuse and related life problems, the spokesman added.

Sponsors are sought who are willing to donate $60 per student for the three-day Operation Snowball. The donation includes room, board and transportation from Collinsville.

Past sponsors have included the Tri-Cities Area Chamber of Commerce, St. John's United Church of Christ, Plum Hill Youth Fellowship, the Madison Police Benevolent League, the Business and Professional Women's Club, the District 9 Board of Education, the Madison Federation of Teachers, Ainsworth Hospital Unit, the Madison Recreation Department, Illinois Bell Volunteers and others.

Persons or groups interested in sponsoring a teenager are urged to call AID Inc. at 345-5200. Donations are tax deductible and may be mailed to AID Inc., 4135 Vandavia, Collinsville, Ill., 62234.

Youths interested in attending should contact their school counselors or AID Inc.

"Operation Snowball consists of activities, talks and small group discussions about relationships, communication, drug abuse and self-image. It is a chance for young people to grow and to be touched in such a way that they will be able to reach out a helping hand to other young people. It is a leadership training program that one would be unlikely to forget."

"The youth you are helping may be your own," the spokesman concluded.

Study ways to reduce vehicle maintenance

Could Granite City's employees repair flat and damaged tires cheaper than the private tire repair service now being utilized by the city? Could money be saved by having high school students do minor maintenance on city vehicles?

Those are questions the city council has asked its street and alley committee to study in light of rising bills for tire repairs and vehicle maintenance.

Some aldermen last week noted that the city is spending about $200 or more per month repairing tires and the repair bills are particularly high for the street department and sewage treatment plant.

Terrance McMillan, superintendent of the sewage treatment plant, said flat tires cannot be avoided as long as city vehicles are dumping sludge at the sanitary landfill, which is full of broken glass, metal and other sharp objects.

Alderman Paul Fisk also noted that the bills are high for such minor maintenance work as oil changes and vehicle lubrications. "Is there nobody in this city (an employee) who can do an oil change?" he asked.

He suggested that the street and alley committee check into the possibility of using the automotive repair shop at Granite City High School North for minor maintenance on city vehicles and the council concurred.

Once before, the city explored the possibility of having high school students work on city vehicles for training, but found that the vehicles would have been out of service for too long to make it practical.

The new automotive repair facility at North high school may make it more feasible now, some aldermen said.

INJURED IN CRASH
Barbara McDonald, 47, Glen Carbon, was hurt at 4:15 p.m. Thursday in a 1400 block of Madison Avenue when the rear of her car, halted in traffic, was hit by the front of the auto of Kimberly Odell, 21, of 1709 1/2 Elizabeth St., Madison.

Record number of eye injuries on July 4 holiday

Seventy-seven eye injuries were reported by ophthalmologists to the Illinois Society for the Prevention of Blindness for the 1981 Fourth of July holiday weekend.

The previous high was 62 in 1979. Over recent years the average eye injuries from fireworks have been 50.

"This report is very disappointing in view of our efforts to stress eye safety over the Fourth of July," states Mrs. Dorie Sternberg, president of the Illinois Society for the Prevention of Blindness.

Persons injured range in age from 4 to 58 with the great majority being males, with 60 eye injuries, compared to 17 eye injuries for females.

"Fortunately the majority of the eye injuries were abrasions and minor burns, without loss of vision. One 17-year-old will require a corneal transplant at a later date due to damage to his cornea," says Mrs. Sternberg.

The injuries were caused by rockets, roman candles and even sparklers according to the information supplied to the Illinois Society by the ophthalmologists throughout Illinois.

"It is depressing that every year we can expect over 50 eye injuries, despite the illegality of fireworks in Illinois. The Illinois Society will have to increase its public education program on fireworks dangers in 1981 if we are going to reduce this startling increase in eye injuries," states Mrs. Sternberg.

Explains ICC operations

The responsibilities and problems of the Illinois Commerce Commission were outlined before a meeting of the Southwestern Illinois Conference of Mayors in Belleville last week by Dr. Charles G. Stalon, commissioner of the commerce commission.

Mayors, aldermen, city commissioners and other officials of Madison, St. Clair and Monroe counties attended the monthly meeting of the mayors council.

Dr. Stalon explained the operations of the ICC and its control over utilities, railroads and various companies such as telegraph firms, bargelines, bus companies and pipelines.

He said the ICC is a quasi-judicial body charged by the legislature with the responsibilities of regulating selected policies and practices of approximately 370 investor-owned public utilities in Illinois.

The commission, he said, is a five-man board appointed by the governor to staggered five-year terms and attempts to fulfill its responsibilities with a staff of about 200 persons, 100 of which are assigned to handling trucking regulations.

Among its major problems, he said, is the commission's handling of the flood of reaping decisions made necessary by the fossil fuel industry and historically higher interest rates.

However, the energy industries and the telecommunications industries are not the only industries attempting to adjust to the powerful forces of contemporary economics. The water and sewer industries also are being forced to adjust to increasing stringent and expensive safeguards.

The Southwestern Illinois Conference of Mayors meets monthly in one of the cities represented on the council.

Mr. and Mrs. David Krohne

Krohne-Hamilos

Wedding vows were exchanged by Miss Janice Elaine Hamilos and David W. Krohne on July 25 at St. John United Church of Christ.

The Rev. Sheldon Culver officiated at a double ring ceremony at 6 o'clock in the evening before an altar adorned with bouquets of carnations in rainbow colors. Organist Alan Milster accompanied the bride's father, Angelo Hamilos as he sang, "The Lord's Prayer," "Jesus, Joy of Man's Desiring," "If," and "For All We Know."

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Angelo Hamilos, 3129 Davis Ave. Parents of the groom, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Krohne, reside at 77 Lucinda Drive, Edwardsville.

Escorted to the altar by her father, the bride wore a full length gown of white polyester knit. Imported silk floral Venice lace applied the empire bodice with lace forming the Queen Anne neckline and cap sleeves.

The slim A-style skirt featured a set-in panel edged with tiny lace motifs and pleating and the lace was repeated on the hemline of the skirt and chapel train. A lace covered cummerbund cap secured her fingertip veil of bridal illusion which also was bordered in Venice lace. She held an arm bouquet of silk flowers in rainbow colors.

Miss Elizabeth Anne Harris was maid of honor and Mrs. Bonnie Oxford, Mrs. Patty MacDermid, Mrs. Nancy Boyer, a sister of the bride, and Mrs. Linda Nitchman, the groom's sister, served as bridesmaids. They selected formal gowns in pastel blue, apricot, buttercup, rose and mint knit over taffeta designed with blouson sleeveless bodices with scoop necklines and a draped capelet in the back. The slim skirts were slightly A-shaped and flared into permanent pleating.

Beth Ann Bulkovich, a cousin of the bride, was the flower girl, and Christopher Boyer, the bride's nephew, was the ring bearer.

She was dressed in a white tulle frock embellished with multi-color flowers and she carried a basket of silk flowers in matching hues.

The groom's shoes, Don Walton as best man, Jim McGuire, Mark Summers, Paul Boyer, a brother-in-law of the bride, John Nitchman, the groom's brother-in-law, Charles Krohne, the groom's cousin and James Devine, a cousin of the bride, completed the cortege of groomsmen and ushers.

Guests were received at Fininger's Garden Party Center after the service. The rehearsal dinner was hosted at Heritage House in St. Louis.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Hamilos chose a blue pleated polyester floor length gown featuring a cape effect that created short sleeves.

The groom's mother, Mrs. Krohne selected a mauve formal polyester dress complemented with a chiffon cape. Both mothers wore wristlet corsages of summer flowers in hues to match their attire.

A 1975 graduate of South High School, the bride was a member of the Madrigals and Modern Music Masters.

The groom was graduated from North High School in 1974 and from Southern Illinois University in 1980. He belonged to the Jazz Lab Band and Symphonic Band.

Their initial stop over was in Columbus, Ohio, and then they motored to Mansfield, Ohio, where they were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Ferguson, a brother-in-law and sister of Mrs. Bridick. Other places visited by the group were North Bay, Upper Sandusky, Port Clinton and Marblehead. They also took a cruise on the Ferguson's yacht on Lake Erie to tour several islands.

A stop-over was made in Put-In-Bay, where they took a tour by tram on historic South Bass Island and viewed the 352-foot Commodore Perry International Peace memorial. On Kelly Island another tour was taken, by the local vacationists, to see the 20,000 year old glacier noted for the largest glacial groove in the world. They preceded into Canada for a visit on Pelee Island, just across Lake Erie, prior to their return home.

Treatment plant staff's attendance concerns taxpayers

How to motivate an individual to strive for his highest level of performance? Money isn't the only ingredient, it became clear last week when $600,000-a-year Cardinal Shortstop Garry Templeton declined to run to first base after the catcher dropped a third strike. Phillie First-baseman Pete Rose, in contrast, also is a highly paid baseball player and always hustles.

"Hustle" or initiative can be defined in different ways but appropriately can include the element of dependably reporting for duty. In this respect, many citizens feel that some Granite City wastewater treatment plant employees may not be giving their best effort.

How to motivate them is becoming a matter of increasing interest to the tax-paying public because of the economic crunch encountered by such governmental agencies as the City of Granite City.

In a time of deficit operations, borrowing in anticipation of future taxes, and personnel cutbacks, it is essential that the municipality get the most "bang for its buck"—the highest possible productivity per dollar of pay and benefits, within reason.

Excessive absenteeism requires a bigger work force than otherwise would be needed, worsening the financial woes and intensifying any staffing inadequacies.

An official compilation shows, as Alderman Warren Deaton puts it, that the average employee of the treatment plant is either unusually sickly and injury-prone, or is taking advantage of sick leave time and other opportunities to be away from work.

This is not true of some of the employees. But with the staff varying from 30 to 26, absences in the first seven and a half months of 1981 totaled 385 days.

The 385 included 227 leave days (97 days of hospitalization and convalescence, 73 documented as involving verified sickness, and 101 days undocumented) and 158 other days. The latter included on-duty injuries, 14 because of deaths in families, and 11 days of jury duty. One cannot help but conclude that 385 is a rather large figure. More than 38 years without an absence have been accumulated by one individual on our staff, and there are other examples of long avoidance of absence at numerous places of employment here and across the country.

There clearly are many instances of unavoidable absence. On the other hand, those with consistent attendance over a span of years admit that they did not always feel "top" when arising from sleep and deciding whether or not to go to work.

Perfection is not possible, or required, in this life, and rosy health is not universal. But attitude would appear to be one of the factors in which a regularly paying group of workers reports for duty.

Those who bear the burden of property taxes would feel a bit better about paying such taxes if they could believe that all on public payrolls are motivated and are giving their best, their 100 percent effort, regardless of their precise attendance percentage.

Money supply being measured by the Keystone Kops

Wall Street Journal—In the beginning, it all seemed straightforward enough. On Oct. 6, 1979, the Federal Reserve Board called "Uncle" and promised to leave interest rates alone and manage monetary policy through the money supply.

But ever since, the Fed has been changing its minds about exactly what is "the money supply."

Maybe "the money supply" would be a handy notion if the market were free to set prices and rates among all financial instruments: no All Savers Certificates for the thrifty, no money market funds for banks from having to pay interest on checking accounts, and so on.

But with things as they are, money races around from instrument to instrument, from money market funds to money aggregates, in search of high yields.

While the Fed, the Treasury, the press and the bond market focus on something called M-1, all the smart money motors around in M-2 or M-3.

M-1 started life as a trendy version of the old M-1. Poor M-1 included demand deposits but some, invented new demand deposits, the NOW accounts and ATS.

So M-1, now called M-1A, was consigned to the historical dustbin. M-1B was invented to include the NOW accounts, until it was "discovered" that some of those NOW accounts include money market funds like transactional money but is actually savings. This is a no-no, since savings belong in M-2.

So the Fed invented something called M-1B Adjusted, which nets out an eyeball estimate of the unwanted savings dollars. So it goes.

There is another little comedy of errors shaping up for the fourth quarter.

The new law created the All Savers Certificates, to be offered only by banks and credit unions starting Oct. 1, paying 70 percent of the one-year Treasury bill rate with $1,000 of interest tax-deductible.

The thrifty (savings and loans), eager to snap up a large share of the estimated $10 billion which will flow into All Savers, have been quick to lock in some of that money now. They are selling "repos" at lip-smackingly low interest for whatever length of time is left between the date of sale and Oct. 1.

When Oct. 1 arrives, they will, of course, shut the doors and buy a repo. But the thrifty have garnered about $10 billion, that figure should rise steeply as Oct. 1 nears and the race for funds heats up.

The causes of M-1B because the repo money is not in M-2, though it is counted in M-3.

So if you take money out of a savings account and buy a repo, M-2 goes down, leaving the Fed targets in disarray. But when the same money is automatically converted to an All Savers Certificate, it surges back into M-2.

The predictable October bulge in M-2 is likely to alarm anyone watching this market, the sinking bonds and unsettling stocks.

At least in the current environment, gearing monetary policy to movements in M-1 or M-2 is as risky as betting on a steady—and as reasonable—as a Keystone Kops chase.

Senility now regarded as a myth

To the Editor: Grandpa has really changed. He's lost his sense of humor. He's cranky and demanding. And he's so forgetful. It's a shame he's become senile.

What we think of as "senility" is not a normal sign of growing old; in fact, it is not even a disease.

Instead, problems such as increased forgetfulness, confusion, depression and irritability can be the symptoms of a wide range of emotional and physical disorders. Some can be treated and cured or even prevented. Others are irreversible.

The most common incurable form of impairment among older persons is affecting anywhere from 500,000 to 1.5 million Americans adults—a little-known, disorienting disease called Alzheimer's (pronounced al-tsi-mer) disease that affects the cells of the brain.

It is estimated that one out of four older persons with mental impairment, more than half are suffering from Alzheimer's disease. An individual with Alzheimer's disease may first experience only minor, nearly unnoticeable symptoms that are often attributed to emotional upsets or other physical illnesses. Gradually, however, he or she becomes more and more forgetful, particularly about recent events.

As the disease progresses, memory loss increases and other changes in personality, mood and behavior are likely to appear.

Judgment, concentration, orientation and speech may also be impaired. In the most severe cases, the disease may eventually render its victims totally incapable of caring for themselves.

Although the person with Alzheimer's disease may deny or be unaware of his or her limitations—especially in the later stages of the disease—the unusual changes in personality and behavior are a source of great frustration for the individual and his or her family and friends.

The emotional and financial drain on victims of Alzheimer's disease, their families and society at large is enormous.

But while the disease is incurable, it can be treated. Proper medical diagnosis and care can help control many of the symptoms and, perhaps more importantly, help the individual and his family cope with the illness' effect on his lives.

The National Retired Teachers Association, the country's oldest retiree organization, has launched a nationwide public service campaign to inform older people and their families about Alzheimer's disease and to stimulate research aimed at finding a cure.

For a free booklet which gives the facts about the disease and where to turn for help, Quad-Cityans may write: Alzheimer's, c/o NRTA, 1909 K Street, N.W., Washington, D.C. 20049.

Zoning ordinance topic of meeting

A proposed new zoning ordinance for Granite City will be the only item of discussion at the next regular meeting of the Granite City Planning Commission Thursday, Sept. 10, 11 p.m. at the city council chambers, 415 City Hall.

The document is not expected to be given final approval by the council until after the Sept. 10 Plan Commission meeting. The commission has made its final recommendations.

The new zoning ordinance expands the number of business and industrial categories and strengthens the powers of a zoning administrator, who is to be named, to enforce the new zoning provisions.

The ordinance is based primarily on existing use of each property also is to be approved. Realtors are objecting to the zoning map, which would place the Rock Road, Madison Avenue and parts of Johnson and Pontoon Roads would be zoned commercial use only rather than mixing commercial and residential neighborhoods, which is the present condition.

An extensive discussion of the ordinance and map are anticipated at the Sept. 10 Plan Commission meeting, which will be open to the public.

Realtors are objecting to the zoning map, which would place the Rock Road, Madison Avenue and parts of Johnson and Pontoon Roads would be zoned commercial use only rather than mixing commercial and residential neighborhoods, which is the present condition.

An extensive discussion of the ordinance and map are anticipated at the Sept. 10 Plan Commission meeting, which will be open to the public.

The document is not expected to be given final approval by the council until after the Sept. 10 Plan Commission meeting. The commission has made its final recommendations.

The new zoning ordinance expands the number of business and industrial categories and strengthens the powers of a zoning administrator, who is to be named, to enforce the new zoning provisions.

PTA opposes tuition tax credits

To the Editor: The proposal of tuition tax credits is the single greatest threat to public education today.

Tuition tax credits would undermine the funding of public education at a time when federal programs for education have already been cut by 25 percent.

In addition, tax credits would cost the federal government $4.7 billion, just for the first year, which we cannot afford. Therefore, it is clear that tuition tax credits are both educationally and economically unsound.

At a late-August meeting of the National PTA board in Chicago, the board authorized a nationwide educational campaign in opposition to tuition tax credits.

It has long been a stand of the National PTA that public funds for education should be appropriated only to public schools.

We have been working through our six million members in local units across the nation, as well as through the National Coalition for Public Education, to oppose all proposals for tuition tax credits or for any additional type of public funding of private schools.

We are now launching a major educational program to alert all Americans—parents and non-parents alike—to the implications of tuition tax credits.

There is a great misunderstanding of what tuition tax credits would do. This is not a plan to provide tax relief for a large segment of our population. Rather, it is a measure designed to force all taxpayers to subsidize the personal choice of a small percentage of parents who wish to send their children to non-public schools.

This shift is both a financial opportunity to return control of education to local communities and states, and a possible threat to children whose needs may not be served.

The board expressed its opposition to tuition tax credits and urged all PTA members to contact their representatives in Congress and state legislatures to oppose such legislation.

concern that, faced with these changes, states and communities will have to choose between cutting educational programs and services or increasing state and local funding.

The Act also calls for "systematic consultation with parents and students of attending elementary and secondary schools" in each district, but does not spell out what the consultation will take.

It is ironic that this law, which is intended to return educational control to communities, could ultimately decrease the role of parents and local leaders in educational decision-making by eliminating the previous requirements for community and parental advice.

The only way to prevent diminishing the parental role is for parents to insist on legitimate participation and involvement in the decision-making on educational planning, programs and funding.

The best way for parents to assure that their wishes are known is for them to make this a matter of prime concern in their local PTA.

PTA unit members should educate themselves and their community about the change in government policy, suggest consultation procedures to be used in their local school district, and participate in the consultation, and monitor school district action so that it complies with the needs of the community as well as the intent of the law.

The PTA—a volunteer organization of parents, educators and community members—is the largest child advocacy group in the world.

Charts path to adequate energy

To the Editor: Two years ago, many American drivers spent part of their summer holiday waiting in line for gasoline.

This year, service station tanks are full, prices are stable and the line is waiting in line for gasoline.

What happened? Why the line is waiting in line for gasoline.

optimistic. But now these out goals are within reach. If our government can take certain steps to help the country meet them.

To cut oil imports in half by 1990, America will need to:

1. Achieve a more reasonable balance between consumption over the energy resources on public lands offshore, onshore, and in Alaska.

2. Make more use of the energy resources on public lands offshore, onshore, and in Alaska.

3. Adopt policies that lead to consistent growth in nuclear power.

4. Let all energy sources compete equally with each other—on their merits—in the marketplace.

There is a real danger now of the softening of world oil markets may give the wrong impression about the urgent need for government action on these steps.

We have seen recently that peace is a very fragile commodity in the Middle East and North Africa, which have been providing about half of America's oil imports, and a much higher share for many of our allies and trading partners.

The sooner we Americans can reduce our dependence on foreign oil, the more protection we—and our allies—will have against disruptions and against the sudden price hikes that have accompanied them in the past.

Corral dumps Edwardsville for finals berth

EDWARDSVILLE — All it really took was a couple runs, but the Corral Liquor Cowboys got a few more just in case.

Corral bombed Edwardsville pitching here yesterday and came away with a 7-1 victory in the semifinals of the Inter-City Baseball League playoffs at Hoppe Park.

Corral will face Maryville, the other semifinal victor, in a best two-out-of-three playoff beginning next Sunday in Granite City. Two seven inning games will be played at Wilson Park Diamond One. The first game will begin at 1 p.m. with the second game immediately following. Should a third game be necessary, it will be played Monday night at 7 in Maryville. It would be a nine-inning game.

Doug Rains did most of the damage for Corra. He pitched a three-hitter at the Nationals and hit a two-run homer in the sixth inning.

Corral scored two runs in the top of the first inning. That 2-0 score held up until the fifth inning, when the Cowboys scored another to make it 3-0.

It became 5-0 with one swing of the bat in the sixth inning. That's when Rains clouted his two-run shot. The Cowboys added single runs in the seventh and ninth innings. Edwardsville didn't score its lone run until the bottom of the ninth.

Steve Stoltz, the Edwardsville starting pitcher, had the day start off on the wrong foot for him. Before the game, he was taking batting practice when a foul tip bounced up and hit him in the right eye. From the looks of things during this course of the game, he had a hard time finding the plate.

Corral scored its seven runs on nine hits.

In the first inning, Tom Greco's double scored both Rains and Mark Clark.

In the fifth, Jeff Tretter hit a smash single that scored Clark, who had walked and stolen second.

Corral, which finished first in the regular season play of the Inter-City League, was never threatened by the same Edwardsville team that had beaten it last weekend to force the third and deciding game of the semifinal series. In fact, it was Stoltz who pitched Edwardsville to its victory last Sunday.

"It just wasn't in the cards," said Edwardsville manager Joe Mueller.

"They (Corral) just flat out hit us. They did the job.

"But I'm happy with the way our team played against them in the playoffs. Heck, they've got so much college talent. When the season started, they had 100 or 200 times at bat under their belts when we were just getting started."

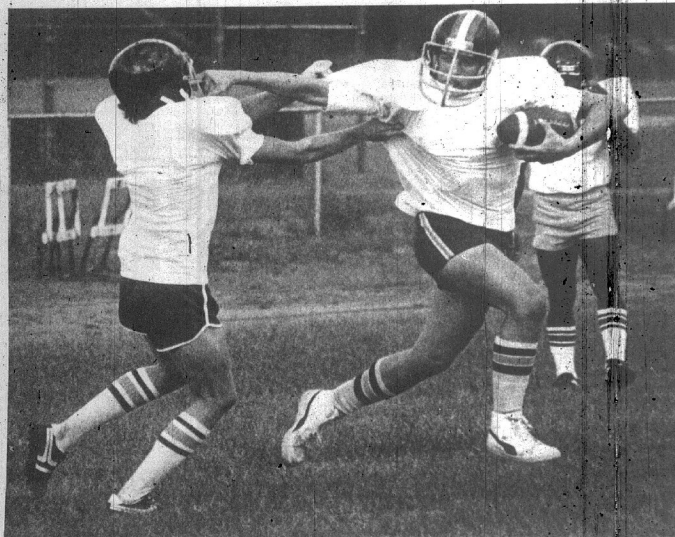

Maryville will have had two weeks' wait when it comes time for the League Championship Series next Sunday. The Red Sox knocked off McDonald's of Granite City in the other semifinal playoff series. McDonald's which finished second to Corral in the regular season, was the defending Inter-City League champion.

NOTES: Corral manager Ken Crawford was not on hand yesterday because of a previous commitment. He will be back for the championship series, however.

So you think local athletes have woes?

By PETE HAYES

GRANITE CITY — So you think Granite City's school sports have got problems because of the teachers' labor dispute, huh? Maybe so, but the laments aren't as bad as those suffered by high schools in Alton, Rockford, Rock Island, Waukegan and Joliet in recent years.

At least there'll be sports to come back to once the contract battles are ironed out in Granite City. High school sports almost died in the cities mentioned above.

The reason — everybody's favorite five-letter word. M-O-N-E-Y.

Let's face it, sports, especially those of the high school level, are expensive. Many times, the cost gets too high for the people paying the bills, i.e. the school board and ultimately the taxpayers. And the most common cure is that of cutting back — or out — the interscholastic sports programs at the schools.

Look at Alton. While the high school there hasn't been forced to drop its school sports completely, there have been a number of cutbacks. Like NO wrestling program. And a severe cutback in the number of sub-varsity teams in several sports, including basketball, football and baseball.

But what Rockford did was much more devastating. In 1976, the schools there did without sports for an entire year. In fact, because voters there refused to pass a tax increase for the schools, all extra curricular activities had to be cut out. A total of 320 teachers lost their jobs. The activities were brought back in 1977.

Once sports were reinstated at Rockford's five high schools, things still weren't hunkey-dreay. Athletic schedules at other schools had to be revised. Students who had played sports previously but had found part-time jobs during the lay off didn't return. Some lower grades still haven't seen full reinstatement of their sports. However, Rockford did finish fourth in the State Class AA Boys Basketball Tournament the year after the layoff.

In Rock Island in 1977, a similar situation occurred. Voters there voted down a tax hike and athletics were cut. But the citizens staged a fund-raising drive and raised over $150,000. The schools were able to keep their sports, but fitness such as towel service, insurance and team meals were cut.

In Collinsville several years ago, school athletics threatened. But citizens got together and raised enough money to save them.

In Joliet last January, sports nearly went down the tubes. But citizens there raised over $100,000. A mandatory student activities fee raised an additional $140,000. Athletics and other extra-curricular activities were saved.

So don't feel too down, Granite City athletes. At least the physical fields will still be there when you go back.

General Manager, stated, "Sam's leadership both on and off the field is an asset which every successful team needs. We're pleased to have him with us, hopefully, for many years to come."

Bick's native St. Louis, is a graduate of De Smet Jesuit High School and Quincy College. At Quincy, he played for three NAIA championship clubs, and was an All-American choice his senior year. Following his senior year, he was a 1st round draft choice of the Minnesota Vikings of the NFL. After playing three years with the Vikings, he joined the San Jose Quakes in 1979. Following that, season, he was acquired on loan by the Steamers, and was signed outright by the Steamers the following year. Bick was one of seven Steamers to play in the MISL All Star Game at Madison Square Garden last season.

Mike Sanger, the team's

Garry, Garry! What'll we do with you, Garry?

ST. LOUIS — Garry, Garry, Garry. What are we going to do with you, Garry?

First you come up with the "If I ain't starting, I ain't departin'" bit about the All-Star game a couple years ago. Then you said you wouldn't give 100 percent. Then you said you wanted to be traded to some team on the west coast.

All of those things were off the wall. Off the wall but excusable. After all, you were the best of the best of all time. The best to ever put on a Cardinal uniform. At least that's what the public was led to believe.

But what happened at Busch Stadium last Wednesday was a little too much, Garry. You just don't do things like that. Most of us learned that as Little Leaguers. You know, don't pay any attention to the fans. Let 'em love all they want. Keep your mind on the game.

But it seems you've been having a hard time doing that.

What the fans were doing to you wasn't right, either. If they threw beer or ice at you, they should have been kicked out of the stadium. They should have been arrested.

But Garry, Garry, Garry. What you DID! You not only did it once, you did it TWICE! Those obscene gestures you made to the crowd.

What's that? Oh, you're right, most of us have done the same thing at least once or twice in our lives. But never in the same situation. It just isn't done, Garry.

You must know by now that your manager is mad at you, Garry. And Whitey has been one of your biggest supporters around here recently. But he really blew his stack at you, didn't he? Said you can't play baseball any more until you apologize.

But Garry, we all know there are two sides to every story. We'd kind of like to hear yours. We know there has to be a problem, to make you act the way you did. If it's plausible, and if you're sincere about being sorry, we'll let you come back. We're good fans in this town, Garry. At least most Cardinal players

DU QUOIN — Howard Beissinger is a master horseman. Year after year, his stable has produced some of the great champions of the harness racing sport, including such vaunted trotters as Lindy's Pride, Speedy Crown and the mercurial Speedy Somoli.

His forte is the development of trotters, an art for which Beissinger has developed a strong following. Again in 1981, he is demonstrating his flawless handling of a young horse in the management of Super Juan, a colt now clearly the favorite for the inaugural edition of the $500,000 World Trotting Derby, to be contested Saturday, Sept. 5 during the 50th annual Du Quoin State Fair.

Consider the outcome of his last few races. On Aug. 22 in Springfield, he trotted the fastest mile of the season by any trotter when he won in 1:56.15 seconds in the second heat of the Review Futurity three-year old trot at the reconstructed Grand Circuit meeting at Springfield.

On Aug. 8 in the Hambletonian, he wound up second in a thrilling battle with Shaway St. Pat after capturing the third heat of the race. He missed winning the Hambletonian by only a head. On July 31, at the Meadowlands, he won the Beacon Course Trot, going the mile in 1:56.3-5 seconds.

To say he has rounded into form at just the right time is to agree that Beissinger has done it again. He has a top colt propped for the big races in classic fashion. Does Beissinger consider his colt a great one?

"To tell you the truth, he was not the best colt in my stable. Defiant Yankee, Super Juan's Stablemate, was a better colt, or so I thought. This colt was very unimpressive as a two year old. He is a little colt, not very big at all, and I guess he is just now beginning to grow up."

Beissinger said following the Springfield victory, which was the fastest mile ever trotted over the historic Springfield track.

Super Juan is a colt by the Triple Crown winning Super Bowl, winner of the 1972 Hambletonian, and from the royally bred stakes winning filly, San Juan, who had a two year old record herself of 2:01.1 and won several stakes. The granddaddy was also a stakes winner and the third dam is the great Expression, a world champion of more than two decades.

Beissinger believes the colt has not hit his peak, yet, however, which means that the world trotting record for three year olds, held by Speedy Somoli and Florida Pro at 1:55 may be in jeopardy as the field of trotters face the gate in the inaugural World Trotting Derby.

Also turning in a credible performance at Springfield was Snack Bar, a Nevele Pride colt owned in Sweden, and trained and driven by Swedish driving star, Hakan Wallner. Snack Bar had won only once this season in 16 previous appearances before he nipped Super Juan at the wire in the opening heat of the Review Futurity in 1:57.3-5 seconds, but he rebounded in the second heat to finish in 2:28.5 seconds. Snack Bar, runner up in the second heat and challenged Super Juan at midstretch, but could get no closer than a half-length. Still, his consistency and apparent bravery, as he thundered home gamely in both heats, make him a colt to watch in upcoming races.

While Super Juan and Snack Bar were entertaining the Springfield crowds, the saga of Smokin' Yankee continued in the $140,000 Zweig Memorial, three year old trot at Syracuse. Smokin' Yankee, two year old trotter of the year in 1980, has had a roller coaster season for trainer Stanley Kiefer and owner Norman McQuinn. Brilliant miles in Canada have been sandwiched around less than brilliant performances in several other major stakes, a development which perplexes trainer Dancer. "This colt has won more than $400,000 in his career, but these recurring problems with his respiration have stolen his class from him. On a given day, he can trot more than any other horse I ever drove, but sometimes he has no trot at all. Trouble is, I can't figure out his system," Dancer moaned recently.

Smokin' Yankee wound up third in the Zweig Memorial and has failed to win any of trotting's major tests this year, although he rebounded from his dismal tenth place placing in the Hambletonian to win the recent Arden Downs stake at The Meadows, near Pittsburgh. Bothered by recurring respiration problems, the colt gets daily treatments on a vaporizing unit, designed to clear his lungs for a good exchange of oxygen.

"I know this colt can trot a lot, and he will show it before the season is out. He has too much class not to be a great horse," Dancer added.

Another of Dancer's pupils, the exquisitely-bred Panty Raid, turned in one of the season's most impressive performances at Springfield, possibly earning herself a start in the World Trotting Derby open division.

Panty Raid, driven by John Simpson Jr., for her owners, Stoner Creek Stud of Paris, Ky., trotted in 1:57.2 and 1:57.1 at Springfield over a small, but select field of fillies in the Review Futurity three year old filly trot.

"I don't know how much she could have trotted today. She was just super. I urged her a little through the stretch the second heat and she took off so fast, I had to hang on," Simpson said of the big filly's impressive miles. Panty Raid is a full sister to Bonafish, winner of the 1975 Hambletonian, and one of the sport's top young sires. Whether or not her owners decide to put her into the big race, when she already has eligibility to the World Trotting Derby filly division, is a question as yet unanswered. But her closing quarters at Springfield, the first heat in :28 flat, the second in :28.25 clearly indicate the filly's class and raceability. It would not be a surprise to see Panty Raid declared into the open division of the inaugural Derby.

The winner of the recent Zweig Memorial was Hot Blooded, a colt sired by the world champion Songcan, who is not eligible to the inaugural Derby, but who may be supplemented to the event by payment of a $25,000 supplementary fee. This is another case where a stablemate has upstaged his shadow partner. Hot Blooded is trained by Gary Lewis, who also trains the Founders Gold Cup winner, Graf Zeppelin.

Graf Zeppelin was the more highly regarded of the pair until Hot Blooded trotted with the silver in an impressive 1:57 effort at Syracuse. Hot Blooded, owned by the estate of Sam Schulsinger and the Khar-toum Sales, has been primarily in New York Sires Stakes events and is clearly the best colt trotter in New York. His owners have not decided on a supplement to the Derby as of this writing.

Owners wishing to start their horses in the Derby may do so by paying the regular $5,000 starting fee on Wednesday, Sept. 2 in Du Quoin. Horses not originally nominated to the Derby may be entered by payment of a special $25,000 supplementary fee, all of which is added to the total purse. The purse is expected to be somewhere around the $225,000 mark, but a couple of supplementary entries, like "Hot Blooded" or the highly regarded Barker, could swell the total over $275,000.

Results or without the supplementary fees, the inaugural World Trotting Derby will be the richest event in the history of the Du Quoin State Fair.

Thompson to be in DuQuoin for first Derby

DU QUOIN — Illinois Governor Jim Thompson has been selected to serve as the Honorary Grand Marshal of the inaugural World Trotting Derby, Saturday, Sept. 5 at the Du Quoin State Fair.

"The selection of the governor for this honor is in recognition of the great contribution he has made to the establishment of the World Trotting Derby following the loss of the Hambletonian Stake," David J. Emerson, board chairman said.

"It was Gov. Thompson who first suggested that Du Quoin should host another race, a race which could not be moved from Illinois, that would belong to the people of Illinois," Emerson said. Thompson will be present at Du Quoin on World Trotting Derby Day and will be presenting trophies for the rich new event as he has traditionally in the past with the Hambletonian.

The Governor, besides his endorsement of the establishment of the World Trotting Derby was also instrumental during the past two sessions of the Illinois General Assembly in aiding the legislative effort of Fair officials who wanted funds originally allocated for the Hambletonian transferred for use on the Derby.

On the day of the final Hambletonian at Du Quoin last year, Thompson signed into law the enabling legislation and then backed up his commitment to the Du Quoin harness racing program by intervening once again in the legislative process when it appeared that funds earmarked for this purpose might be diverted elsewhere.

"Governor Thompson's unwavering support of our harness racing program has been critical to us in our effort to recoup from the loss of the Hambletonian, Emerson added. "The Derby is already on its way to becoming a great Midwestern classic."

The inaugural Derby is expected to draw harness racing fans from throughout the nation to the famed Du Quoin track which for so many years has hosted the nation's racing's greatest champions.

Steamers sign

ST. LOUIS — Veteran forward Mal Roche has signed a contract with the St. Louis Steamers.

Although no figures were released, the club verified that it is a one year agreement with an option for 1983. Roche became the 18th player under contract to the MISL's Central Division Champions.

He joined the Steamers late last season with teammate Bob Bozada, when the club was experiencing a flood in the 18th year under contract to the MISL's Central Division Champions.

Dave R. Dillenberger, a 1981 graduate of Waterloo High School will join the McKendree College pitching corps, as well as serve as a firstbaseman for the 'Cats when the situation arises.

"He's a very competitive athlete," said Coach Smith.

Dillenberger signs with McKendree

LEBANON, ILL. — A versatile baseball player from Waterloo, Ill. has decided to attend McKendree College this fall and play for the baseball Bears during the 1982 stint.

Dave R. Dillenberger, a 1981 graduate of Waterloo High School will join the McKendree College pitching corps, as well as serve as a firstbaseman for the 'Cats when the situation arises.

"He's a very competitive athlete," said Coach Smith.

Roche, who will turn 29 in September, is a native of Coventry, England, and was a 1976 graduate of the University of San Francisco. He played on the NCAA champion Dons in 1973 and 1976.

The five year veteran of the American Soccer League is currently with the Carolina Lightening. He has scored eight goals this year. He was named the ASL's Rookie-of-the-year in 1977 and in 1980 led the league in scoring and was named its Most Valuable Player.

"Dave is a power-pitcher, can play firstbase and he's also a good hitter," Dillenberger, who posted a 7-2 season mark at Waterloo last season and a 6-1 record in American Legion District 2 action, has a .333 batting average.

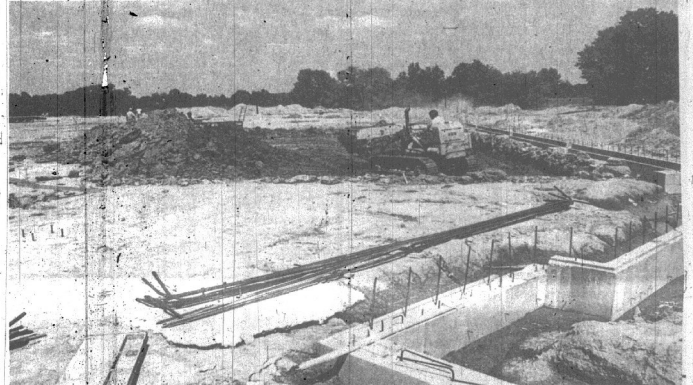

"We have our entire pitching staff returning this season, but we needed to add some more depth and Dave will be able to step right in and help us out," Smith said.

A 6'3" 200-pounder, Dillenberger was named the most valuable player for the Bulldog baseball team to the regional and Cahokia conference championships in 1981.

He is a member of the American Legion District 22 South division championship team and was the winning pitcher for his division in the recent District 22 all-star game.

In addition to baseball, Dillenberger also received varsity letters in basketball and soccer.

Planning to major in business at McKendree College, he is the son of E. Robert and Lyla Dillenberger of Waterloo.

A LONG-AWAITED DREAM on the Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville campus, a multipurpose physical education, recreation and athletic facility, is becoming a reality. Construction crews are putting in long hours in an attempt to complete the $11.8 million facility by its projected completion date of December, 1982. Once completed, the SIUE multipurpose building will include a 5,200-seat gymnasium, a swimming pool, eight handball and racquetball courts, classrooms, a weight room and offices.

Garry

Through the years have thought so. They like it here. We're sorry if you don't, because we'd like to play ball here. We're trying.

But there's a limit, Garry.

One more time, Garry. That's it. We want you playing shortstop with a pair of Cardinals on your chest. But not at the expense of our pride as the best baseball fans in the USA.

We hope you can get your problems straightened out. But there's more than one player on a baseball team. And right now, Garry.

We like them a lot more than we like you.

Korean ceramic artist returns to conduct workshop for students

When Chung Hyun Cho completed her studies at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville and returned to her native Korea more than five years ago, her friends and teachers were reluctant to let her go.

Having Mrs. Cho in the classroom was a real pleasure for both her classmates and instructors. Learning was a two-way street. Even while she was in the process of learning about ceramics techniques in this country, she was sharing knowledge about specialized art techniques of her homeland.

Today, she is back in Edwardsville conducting a ceramics workshop that combines the best of both cultures.

Mrs. Cho was already a distinguished artist when she came to Edwardsville to pursue a master of fine arts degree. She had a bachelor of arts degree in applied arts and a master of arts degree in ceramics from Ewha Women's University in Seoul, but she still hungers to learn more.

That preparation has paid off admirably. Today she is the chairman of the ceramics department at Ewha Women's University, and is one of her country's leading ceramics artists.

It is people like Mrs. Cho who make ceramics an art form rather than just a craft. Her students are not only expected to produce a certain number of art objects by hand, they are expected to construct their own precision tools to work with.

In fact, the first assignment of the class is that of making their own carving, incising, and decorating tools. "We rely on going to the store to get the tools we need. The Koreans make their own," Dan Anderson, associate professor of art and design at SIUE, said.

After picking up one of her delicate tools and comparing it against one of the commercial variety, he said, "See the difference. Those made on the production line in our country just don't have the sensitivity as those which have been made by hand." Everything is sensitive to the touch, he added. "In explaining how the incise technique is applied to pottery, Anderson said, 'When the pot is leather-hard, you just carve away the design or pattern you want.' Then a liquid clay, the consistency of yogurt, is applied to the design and the pot is glazed.

"In Korea, it is typical to use birds and floral patterns in the decoration," Mrs. Cho said.

The Korean artist has integrated the salt-glazing technique of colonial America with the incise techniques of the Orient. "It provides a nice, simple way to show off her decorations without covering them up with glaze," Anderson said.

Photography training at 'Y'

The Tri-City Area YMCA in Granite City has announced that it is offering an eight-week photography class beginning Sept. 10. The class will meet on Thursday evenings from 7-10 p.m.

Augusta Birkhead will teach the class which is designed to teach all about cameras and the dark room. She will offer specific instruction in picture-taking techniques and composition, and in film processing and printing.

Registration for the class is being taken now at the "Y", 2001 Edison Ave., 876-7200. Cost for Y members is $15 and $24 for non-members.

A process of throwing salt into the kiln at the peak temperature produces an "orange peel" or pitted effect to the artwork.

Mrs. Cho won her country's top prize in ceramics last year. The government purchased the winning piece, a large, salt-fired carved and inlaid vase, for their National Art Museum. She also has an exhibit currently on display at the American Cultural Center in Seoul.

Many of Mrs. Cho's patterns are traditional, but Dan Anderson feels that her hallmark is the use of bold lines in her designs.

While she was still a student at SIUE, one of her professors said, "Fine and intricate hand labor is not common in America. Most Americans do not have the patience that the Orientals have." He failed to consider the impact of Mrs. Cho's teachings on the students at SIUE.

Somewhere in villages and towns around the country are a number of students who have been inspired by the guidance of their Korean teacher. Her contribution to the art in this country may not be as apparent for a number of years—until the hands of her students are able to execute what she has inspired.

Venice asks citizens to keep yards, homes neat

Unkept yards, high weeds, trash and papers in the street were a topic of discussion at the Venice city council last week.

It was noted that the city is about to lose seven manpower employees on Friday, Sept. 18. The council members said that Venice citizens need to help by keeping their yards neat, alleys, gutters and streets clean and weeds cut, as the city does not have the manpower to do this like they did in former years.

A house at 620 Lincoln Ave. belonging to Larry Schmidt, a former resident, needs to be condemned the council was told by the city building inspector.

It was noted that the roof is falling in, the house is a fire hazard and was allegedly condemned 18 years ago.

A local Community Development committee member said that there were nine houses that have been waiting for inspection by the Madison County Community Development (MCCD) for three to four years.

One resident, a widow, said that her house was scheduled for repair work for the past four years and a MCCD inspector has yet to come by.

Mayor Tyrone Echols said, "I will check with the people in Edwardsville and see if I can't get someone moving. Some houses they won't fix if it entails more than a certain amount of work."

Echols noted that he had filled out all the information and forms and sent them to MCCD in order to get funds for more demolition of some structures.

"While we're thinking about old things, that tin can the chief of police drives is a joke. We need to think about getting that replaced and soon," Echols said. Echols said he wanted to thank the Madison County Board and in particular Rod Bauder and Bill Haine for paying for the fire calls in the Eagle Park area that were not paid for by the township.

Secretaries install

The Tri-Cities Chapter of Professional Secretaries International installed three new members at its August meeting, which was the first meeting of its new fiscal year.

The three new members are Janet K. Crawford of Federal Bargain Lines, Inc., Beverly K. Taylor of Kaege Real Estate & Insurance and Sharon K. Werner of Chapman and Carlson Law Office. Each girl received a single silk red rose, which is the national flower for the organization.

Two new members were not able to attend the August meeting and will be installed at the September meeting. They are Billie L. Schuler of First National Bank in St. Louis, and Colleen Olson of Granite City Sheet Metal Works, Inc.

The August meeting kicked off a new membership drive, and the first guest for the season was Betty Kelsaw of Kaege Real Estate & Insurance. During the meeting, there was a general discussion by all committee chairmen, relating plans for the year, and soliciting suggestions and ideas.

The next scheduled meeting of the Tri-Cities Chapter is set for Thursday, Sept. 3, to be held at Charlie's Restaurant at 6:15 p.m. The featured guest speakers will be Shirley Rapoff, loan processor-office manager, and Tom Carpenter, branch manager, of Town and Country Mortgage Co. They will speak on the topic of women buying and selling homes in today's market.

The Professional Secretaries International welcomes guests at their monthly meetings. Any local secretary interested in attending the Sept. 3 meeting, is advised to contact Kathleen Smith, membership chairman, at 344-6172.

Preceptor Beta beginning day

Preceptor Beta Gamma Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi Sorority, held its "beginning day" observance during the weekend with an early morning breakfast in the home of Mrs. Arlene Haldeman.

She was assisted with the initial event by Dolores Byrnes, Norma Rains and Linda Koenig.

The theme of Beta Sigma Phi for the 1982 year will be "Circle the World With Kellow Roses" and was cleverly displayed with a table centerpiece.

Marilyn Lumpkins, chapter president, presided over the planning session and announced that Illinois has a new division chairman, Viola Doran.

Jean Forrest distributed the new yearbook inserts to each member and Dolores Dorch, ways and means chairman, requested each member bring their contributions for the Sept. 5 year sale to her home several days in advance of the project.

During the meeting, Miss Lumpkins announced that Betty Ebling will receive the "silver circle" award at the Sept. 5 meeting held in the Haldeman residence.

Others attending were Marthy Dyer, Joie Laule, Ruth Stoyanoff, Pat Tsigalaroff, B. J. Jones, Evelyn Tolliver and guests Betty Ebling and Marcia Georff.

Eta Chapter plans fall rummage sale

Final plans were made for a Nov. 14 rummage sale to be held at the VFW Hall in Granite City by members of Eta Chapter Phi Tau Omega Sorority, last week. Mrs. Mary Evelyn Venclo was appointed to serve as chairman of the fund raising project.

The group met at Pontecello's Restaurant in St. Louis for the dinner meeting, arranged by Betty Krug, Georgiana Van Bickirk, and Shirley Morgan.

After dinner prizes were awarded to Edna Hatcher, Mary Lou Richardson, Dolores Sheridan, Kathryn Weddell and Dorothy Costello.

Mr. and Mrs. Gregory Feigl

Feigl-Ponce

Urns of ferns and greenery placed at the front of the sanctuary, bouquets of silk white gladiolus on the altar, and white satin bows on the pews, provided the setting in St. Elizabeth Roman Catholic Church for the wedding on Aug. 1 of Miss Rosalie Ponce and Gregory Feigl.

The Rev. Kenneth Becker performed the double ring ceremony at 1 o'clock in the afternoon. Organist Jane Kozielek accompanied Kim Balogh as she sang, "The Theme from Ice Castles," "Hill," "The Wedding Song," "Ave Maria" and "The Lord's Prayer."

Parents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. Roy Ponce, 2106 Lindell Blvd. The groom is the son of Francis Feigl, 2537 Delmar Ave. and Mrs. Jo Elaine Feigl, 3137 Myrtle Ave.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride chose a formal white organza gown designed with an empire bodice featuring a V-neckline edged in Chantilly lace and long lace sleeves.

Her semi-full skirt and chapel train also was enhanced with Chantilly lace. A crown of seed pearls held in place her chapel length veil of bridal illusion bordered in scallop lace and she held a bouquet of white silk roses, clusters of blue forget-me-nots and baby's breath, tied with white streamers.

Miss Becky Leeper served as honor attendant with bridesmaids, Miss Susan Ponce, a sister of the bride, Misses Kathy and Kristy Feigl, the groom's sisters, and Miss Sue Rieser.

They wore pastel blue gowns, featuring embroidered yokes and sleeves and softly flowing floor length skirts.

Each attendant carried a posage of blue daisies, white roses, forget-me-nots and baby's breath.

Carrie Ann Schaus and Eric Ponce, a cousin of the bride, served as the flower girl and ringbearer, respectively.

She was dressed in a pale blue frock accented with a white lace trim, and she carried a basket of blue daisies, white forget-me-nots, blue star flowers and baby's breath. She also wore a band of matching blossoms in her hair.

Rick Fernandez attended the groom as best man. Groomsmen included Robert Ronney, Fred Schuler, Joe Theis and Claude Olanesian. Seating the guests were Mark Ponce, a cousin of the bride, and Allan LeSage, the groom's cousin.

Miss Susan Robinson presided over the guest book at a reception held at Croatian Home in Madison.

A rehearsal dinner was hosted at the Round Table Restaurant in Collinsville, by the groom's mother.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Ponce selected a floor length yellow chiffon gown fashioned with a pleated skirt and Venise lace at the neckline.

The groom's mother was attired in a formal Dor blue blouson gown fashioned with a pleated skirt and complemented with a capelet which formed the sleeves.

Mrs. Feigl, stepmother of the groom, appeared in a long sea green polyester dress created with a chiffon blouson bodice, accented with an embroidery trim.

Each of the mothers wore corsages of roses and baby's breath in colors to match their attire.

Both young people graduated from South High School. The bride also graduated from Parkland College, Champaign, Ill., as an animal health technician.

The groom presently is attending the University of Alabama at Huntsville where he is majoring in electrical engineering.

They are now residing in Huntsville following a wedding trip to St. Petersburg, Fla.

Party honors Peggy Staggs

Peggy Staggs celebrated her third birthday at a party, given by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Staggs at their home, 2729 Iowa St., last week.

A Holly Hobby motif provided the party decorations and table appointments.

The hosts served ice cream and cake after the guest of honor opened her gifts.

Those attending were the honoree's sister, Mindy, high grandmother Hazel Staggs, and Alline and Everett Parton and son Trampas and grandchild Stephanie, Wanda Arnold and children, Mark, Billy and Joie, Patti and Jim Gibson and sons, Norman and Darin.

Ladies Sodality announce plans

The Ladies Sodality of St. Elizabeth Catholic Church met last week and completed plans for fall projects and programs with Mrs. Pat Loftus, president, in charge.

She requested each committee chairman submit reports and announced the next event will be an adult hayride scheduled for September.

The Christmas workshop will begin on Sept. 9, and the annual penny shower for the buns at the school will be held at the Sept. 22 meeting, the president noted.

Kay Pearson was introduced as a special guest for the evening with new members, Muriel Burns and Connie Rickert.

After the business session a layette shower was held. The closing prayer was led by the Rev. Henry Schmidt, who dedicated the meditations to Miss Juliana Hoedbeck, a teacher at St. Elizabeth School who died of injuries sustained in an automobile accident this month.

Courts terminate 5,155 cases in July

The volume of cases in Circuit Court, Third Judicial Circuit (Madison and Bond counties), increased slightly during July, but the rise of only 164 cases is considered satisfactory during the summer months, when some judges fulfill mandatory bench service in Chicago and others take vacation time off.

The Chief Judge Joseph J. Barr and 11 are mildly satisfied with the report, "Circuit Clerk Willard V. 'Butch' Portell said in issuing the monthly accounting of cases.

Portell noted that 5,319 new cases were filed during July while 5,155 cases were terminated. He said there was a good gain in large law cases and in criminal cases, which is unusual during the summer months.

There also was a heavy volume of dispositions in traffic cases with 3,211 cases terminated, Portell added.

Following are the numbers of each type of case filed, terminated and pending at the end of July.

Cases	Filed	Terminated	Pending
Law cases seeking more than $15,000
July	68	88	2185
Non-July	44	21	281
Law cases seeking $1,000 to $15,000
July	20	14	726
Non-July	38	59	1306
Other cases
Chancery	27	25	475
Miscellaneous Remedy	2	28	450
Eminent Domain	3	1	44
Mental Health	36	48	2
Divorce	160	180	102
Family	72	33	1920
Juvenile	58	98	234
Felony	65	75	174
Misdemeanor	455	328	1468
Small Claims	527	403	2050
Totals	1,602	1,361	12,543

Of the 75 felony defendants whose cases were terminated during the month, 61 were convicted, 10 had their cases dismissed on consolidated with other cases, one case was reduced to a misdemeanor and three others were acquitted by a jury.

Guilty pleas during the month included one for murder, five for Class X felonies, five for Class One felonies, 17 for Class Two felonies, 15 for Class Three felonies and 14 for Class Four felonies. Juries found one defendant guilty of a Class X felony, another guilty of a Class Three felony and two defendants guilty of Class Four felonies.

Felony sentences during the month included 18 persons sent to prison, 11 receiving probation with periodic imprisonment and 31 receiving probation or conditional discharges with other conditions.

Failure to report income triggers IRS problems, bar association warns

"The surest way to get into trouble with the Internal Revenue Service is to fail to report income," warns George Brode Jr., a Chicago tax attorney, and immediate past chairman of the Taxation Section Council of the Illinois State Bar Association.

"It doesn't matter whether the failure is an honest oversight or a calculated tax dodge," Brode said. "The IRS considers failure to report income to be a serious offense."

While those found guilty of overstating their deductions generally are forced in civil court actions to pay their unpaid taxes plus interest, persons who under-report income face criminal charges with possible prison terms and heavy fines hanging in the balance.

"Typical income sources include compensation for services, including salary, commissions and fees; profits from the sale of property; business income; rents; interest; royalties; dividends; annuities; alimony and separate maintenance payments; income from life insurance and endowment policies; and pensions."

Less obvious sources of income so defined by the Internal Revenue Code include:

Jury fees, punitive damage other than for personal injury, Christmas bonuses, school tuition paid by employer, prizes won in a contest, special discounts, such as decreases in rent awarded in the form of a tax credit, and the like.

"People would do well to remember that the gangster, Al Capone, was jailed not for his bootlegging or vice operations, but for tax evasion," Brode said.

Bartered exchanges, such as payment in the form of goods and services, also are income.

Brode noted that the failure to report barter income has become so prevalent in recent years it has been targeted for special attention by IRS personnel.

"The initial IRS actions will probably be against companies that have established themselves as middlemen in the barter business," Brode predicted. "But with the incidence of barter increasing, people should be aware that individual participants may also be examined by the IRS generally treats a number of sources of income as not being taxable. Some of these include:

Social security and some disability benefits, car pool receipts contributed to automobile owners by child support payments, income tax refunds (federal), accident and health insurance premiums paid by employer, up to $100,000 of gain on sale of home if taxpayer is 55 or older.

Also merchandise distributed to employees on holidays, inheritances, bequests and devises, G.I. Bill benefits, a limited amount of unemployment benefits received under federal or state law.

With regard to deductions, Brode urged caution on tax shelter deals.

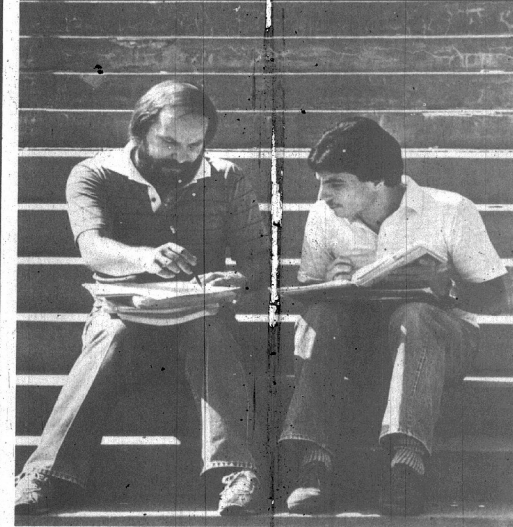

He noted that chief counsel of the Internal Revenue Service, N. Jerold Cohen, in a speech in Chicago last September said: "The service recognizes that tax shelters are probably the major compliance problem we face today. As a result, the service has stepped up its audit coverage of tax shelters and we have taken a lot of different steps to try to identify tax shelters, to try to process the returns, propose the deficiencies, and move the cases right into court."

At the end of the year, the service has identified over 25,000 abusive tax shelters involving over 200,000 taxpayers and has estimated more than $6 billion in adjustments."

Brode added that although legitimate tax shelters do exist, individuals should be leary of promoters' claims. He suggested that potential investors have their tax advisers review five key areas.

ARREST 3 SALESMEN

Dennis Montgomery, 30, St. Louis, Jeffrey Brooks, 23, Ferguson, and Robert Beaudine, 21, Chesterfield, Mo., were arrested for soliciting without a city license at 2 p.m. Friday in the Center Plaza shopping center parking lot. They allegedly were trying to sell "warehouse close-out" cutlery, cookware and tool sets stored in a parked van. Each was freed on $35 bail.

Lower federal student lunch reimbursement

New federal reimbursement rates for school breakfast and lunch programs during the 1981-82 school year have forced most school districts to increase the amount students pay for meals.

Legislation signed into law by President Reagan on Aug. 13 increases the allowable maximum charges for reduced price breakfast and lunch programs. The law sets the maximum charge for a reduced price breakfast at 40 cents and for a reduced price lunch at 30 cents. For the 1980-81 school year, the maximum cost was 20 cents for a reduced price lunch and 10 cents for a reduced price breakfast.

To qualify for a free or reduced price breakfast or lunch, students must meet family income guidelines issued by the U.S. Department of Agriculture (USDA).

The 1981-82 fiscal year guidelines, issued under provisions of the new law, have adjusted the yearly family income levels to qualify for free and reduced price meals.

Beginning Sept. 1, parents with two children; family of four, and a yearly income of less than $10,990 ($10,970 under guidelines which expired June 30) qualify for free meals for the children.

A family of the same size with a yearly income of less than $15,630 ($15,490 last year) qualifies for reduced price meals for the children.

The new law also revises reimbursement rates for participants in the national school lunch program. Schools serving less than 60 percent of their lunches at free or reduced prices will be reimbursed 10 cents for reduced price lunches, 62.5 cents for reduced price meals, and $1.09, 25 for free meals.

Schools serving more than 60 percent of their lunches at free or reduced prices will be reimbursed 12.5 cents for reduced price lunches, 71.25 cents for reduced price meals, and $1.11, 25 for free lunches.

Adjusted federal reimbursement rates issued this past January for school lunch programs were 16 cents for regular price lunches, 79.5 cents for reduced price lunches, and 99.5 cents for free lunches.

Also, schools that served at least 60 percent of their lunches at free or reduced prices received a slightly higher reimbursement rate. The 1981-82 reimbursement rates for school breakfast programs are 8.25 cents for regular price breakfasts, 26.5 cents for reduced price breakfasts, and 57 cents for free breakfasts.

In addition to the federal assistance, school lunch and breakfast sponsors receive a state reimbursement of 15 cents for each free-meal served to students. Excluding the reduced price meals, sponsors of breakfast and lunch programs may establish prices for meats, milk, and a la carte items at whatever level is necessary to maintain a non-profit program.

Also, effective Oct. 1, schools or institutions participating in federally-funded food service programs will not receive reimbursements for adult purchases of food.

The federal family income guidelines for free or reduced price meals are the following:

Family size of one, $6,600 income level for free meals, $7,670 level for reduced price meals.

Family size of two, $7,400 for free meals and $10,530 for reduced price.

Three, $9,190 and $13,630. Four, $10,990 and $15,630. Five, $12,780 and $18,190. Six, $14,570 and $20,740. Seven, $16,370 and $23,290. Eight, $18,160 and $25,840. For each additional family member, add $1,790 to the income level for free meals and $2,550 for reduced price meals.

HURT IN FIGHT AFTER HORSESHOE TOURNEY
Struck on the forehead with a beer bottle, Rick White, Ferguson, Mo., was admitted to St. Elizabeth Medical Center, treated and released with his brother, Dennis White, and John Maher, Caseyville, who was struck in the eye area with a fist at 3:30 p.m. Saturday.

A fight between a large number of persons had begun when it became too dark to continue a horseshoe throwing tournament in the yard of a residence at 4101 Rode Ave. Each tournament participant had put $2 in a fund pending the determining of a champion.

FOUR CARS DAMAGED IN MULTIPLE CRASH
Mark A. Widel, 22, Rural Route Two, was charged with reckless driving at 2:10 a.m. Saturday after his westbound auto hit the rear of the parked car of Sara Grunke, 206, Wilson Park, in the 900-block of Niedringhaus Avenue. Her vehicle was thrown westward, the rear of the parked auto of John H. Rode, 1608 Elizabeth St., Madison. The latter car was knocked across Chestnut Street and hit the rear of the parked auto of Mike Murgie.

Pontoon supports denial of zoning for trailer

By DONNA KIMBRO of the Press-Record

The Pontoon Beach Board agreed to uphold a decision of the Madison County Zoning Board to deny Malcolm Thompson, 4170 Breckenridge Lane, the special use permit he had obtained earlier, during a meeting last week.

President Paul Bennett explained that Thompson had secured the permit for a trailer that was parked on a parcel of ground that he now wants to sell and the permit was only issued for the trailer.

Board members approved a request of Walter Rowland for a personal residence permit only for a house trailer located in Carver subdivision along Highway 162.

In other business the Board granted permission to the Quad-City Navy Mothers, Chapter 850, to sell tags in the Pontoon Beach area on Sept. 10-11, and denied the owner-manager of Pontoon Fina Service Station a license to sell packaged liquor at the station, noting there were no license available at the present time.

Also approved was a bid of $60 by Lakeside Roofing Co. to repair the roof of the Village Hall. Funds to pay for the repairs have been received from the insurance company, Bennett noted.

An application submitted by Trustees Robert Vincent to purchase equipment for the police department through the State of Illinois, to give the Village of Pontoon a lower price rate, was approved by the board members.

A resident of Kaseberg Lane area requested the board provide better drainage for the north side of Kaseberg Lane where water stands stagnant until it dries up. He also asked the board to ban the use of metal containers to burn trash and garbage until it is a health hazard and creates an unsightly area in the neighborhood.

During the open discussion with other residents the board also heard a complaint relating to a trailer parked off Highway 111 where there are noisy parties and allegedly some damage to other homes in the area by those residing in the trailer.

In conjunction with a statement of another resident who said large trucks are again parking on Highway 111 within the intersection causing a hazardous condition for motorists, Bennett said the board would be corrected. He noted the board had approved Ordinance 304 that prohibits parking along Highway 111 within the corporate limits of the Village as of March 10, 1981.

Seminar for host families

The International Hospitality Program, a community volunteer program which watches over almost 300 foreign students at SIUE, will sponsor a seminar Sept. 12 for people wishing to learn more about becoming host families.

The seminar will be held in Room 2405 of Peck Classroom Building from 9 a.m. until 2:30 p.m. Registration is $4 and includes lunch. Dr. Barbara J. Teters, vice president and provost, will give the welcoming address.

Peggy Pusch, community section consultant of the National Association for Foreign Student Affairs, will lead the sessions.

Topics to be discussed in the seminar include dealing with cultural differences, evaluating programs and future plans, exploring rewards and frustrations in international community work, and examining group creativity.

Evening computer classes

Two series of computer science classes, usually offered only as day classes at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville, will be scheduled in the evening, beginning fall semester.

It is the first time SIUE has been able to offer more than the first course in computer programming, statistics, and mathematics. The University offers a complete program in computer science as an option in the math major for the bachelor's degree.

For additional information or to check registration requirements, interested persons may contact Robert Pendergrass at SIUE, Box 65, Edwardsville, Ill. 62026 or call 692-2384.

The first class is a three-quarter sequence beginning in the fall with a course in PASCAL language. It continues winter quarter with a course in FORTRAN, and in spring with assembly language programming.

Each session will meet at the same time 6:30-9:20 p.m. on Tuesdays and Thursdays — throughout the year.

The second class is a two-quarter sequence beginning winter quarter with computers in society, an introduction to programming languages and their uses. The series continues with a course in FORTRAN, an introduction to computer programming, during spring quarter.

Both classes will meet at 6:30-9:20 p.m. on Mondays and Wednesdays. Pendergrass said the computer science classes will be the newest addition to the regular evening schedule of courses of the department.

Two injured in motorcycle crash

A motorcycle overturned on Route 200 near the curve near Harding Boulevard at 3:20 a.m. Sunday, skidding one-tenth of a mile, but the two occupants are listed as receiving only minor abrasions and lacerations.

Mark S. Voss, 2916 Santa Fe Ave., was operating the motorcycle north along the highway and his passenger was Randy Pech, 21, 2824 Wayne Ave. Each was released after treatment at St. Elizabeth Medical Center.

Witnesses said the motorcycle was forced against a curb by a small blue auto that was traveling north and passing the cycle.

World Of Music

In David Cassidy's footsteps?

By ROBIN WELLES

HOLLYWOOD — There's an unusual similarity between the careers of John Schneider and David Cassidy.

Several years ago Cassidy was the heartthrob of teen girls as one of the stars of the hit TV show, "The Partridge Family."

He used that fame to launch a singing career that, for a time, took off like a rocket. Nowadays, however, the rocket is more like a Roman candle, with only occasional modest time in the spotlight.

Schneider, of course, is the handsome star of "The Dukes of Hazzard."

And, it turns out, he also fancies himself a singer and is just out with his debut album for Scotti-CBS, titled "Now or Never." The title is pegged on Schneider's version of the Presley classic, "It's Now or Never."

Schneider has a pleasant baritone that lends itself to ballads and country-type songs. The LP is selling fast, probably helped along in good measure by a boyish portrait of Schneider on the cover.

There also is an uncanny facial resemblance between Cassidy and Schneider. But fame can be fleeting in the music racket, as Cassidy found. In a few years will people be saying, "John Schneider who?"

CHARLIE DANIELS BAND - Volunteer Jam VII (Epic) — Thousands crowded into the Municipal Auditorium in Nashville last Jan. 17
